

Saturday 15 July , 7.30pm
St Endellion Church

Endelienta Ensemble

directed by Adam Hickox and Rees Webster

Brilliant young musicians from Cambridge and London perform

Ludwig van Beethoven, Pastoral Symphony
Kurt Weill, 2nd Symphony

Tickets £10, free for accompanied under 16s
online at www.endelienta.org.uk (summer online offer: book 4 for 3)
or telephone: 07787 944935
or available at The Wadebridge Bookshop

Saturday 15 July , 7.30pm, St Endellion Church

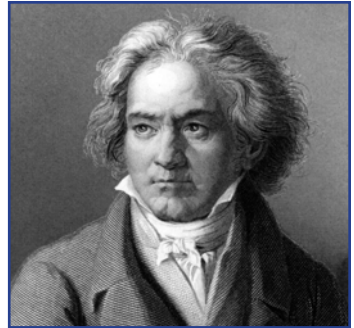

Endelienta Ensemble

directed by Adam Hickox and Rees Webster

“Eclectic and evocative”

Conducted by Adam Hickox and Rees Webster, the Endelienta Ensemble is a chamber orchestra comprising students from London and Cambridge. This summer the ensemble returns to St Endellion, performing Beethoven’s Pastoral Symphony and Kurt Weill’s 2nd Symphony. An eclectic pairing, both works are cinematic and highly evocative.

Adam Hickox, locally born, is in his final year reading music at Gonville and Caius college, Cambridge. Next year he takes up a place to study conducting at the Royal Academy of Music. Having graduated from Cambridge, Rees Webster is now studying at the Guildhall School of Music and Drama, where he is a Guildhall Scholar.

Right: Adam Hickox conducting

Tickets £10, free for accompanied under 16s
online at www.endelienta.org.uk (summer online offer: book 4 for 3)
or telephone: 07787 944935
or available at The Wadebridge Bookshop