

HEY, HUMAN!

[Verse 1 – Sea Creatures]

Hey, human! Up there on dry land
Out of the ocean and over the sand
Come diving, into the blue
For a different perspective, a different view
The tip of the iceberg is all that you see
But come and explore underwater with me
I'll show you the damage down here from below
I'll take you home safely, but I want to know

[Chorus]

Why can't you wake-up and see what you've done?
You're killing the planet, we're all on the run
The oceans are rising, the ice caps are low
Where did you think all your plastic would go?
Where are the rivers, the forests and trees?
Didn't you realise you needed the bees?
You've poisoned the water, the air and the land
Global destruction by human hand

[Verse 2 – Birds]

Hey, Human! Yes, you on the ground!
Down there on the surface where mammals are found
Come flying, and soar way above
The hilltops and mountains, a place that I love
From a distance, you'll see all the damage you've done
Like moving the ozone away from the sun
You see the destruction up here in the sky
I'll take you home safely, but please tell me why

[Chorus]

Why can't you wake-up and see what you've done?
You're killing the planet, we're all on the run
The oceans are rising, the ice caps are low
Where did you think all your plastic would go?
Where are the rivers, the forests and trees?
Didn't you realise you needed the bees?
You've poisoned the water, the air and the land
Global destruction by human hand

[Verse 3 – Animals]

Hey, human! We're all in distress
You're causing a big ecological mess
We all share the planet, we're all interlinked
Another few years and we'll all be extinct
Another few years and we'll all be extinct
Another few years and we'll all be extinct

[Chorus]

Why can't you wake up and see what you've done
And you have the nerve to call animals dumb
You've not done enough, this is not going well
It's time to make changes, it's time to rebel
Say no to plastic, say yes to the bees
Make the right choices, look after the trees
There are billions of people, and one job to do

There are billions of people, and one job to do
Hey, human! It all starts with you.
